DVD player

This device is equipped with a built-in DVD player.
To avoid direct exposure to laser radiation, the disc opening is usually located on the side of the device for safety reasons. Do not try to change or alter the opening for discs in any way. When inserting the disc into the player or during the replay, do not look into the opening for discs. Visible laser radiation could be emitted. Do not look at the laser beams.

Interference with the device and adjustment or modification without the express agreement of the manufacturer or his authorized representative may result in loss of warranty, removal of the device, damage to property and, last but not least, serious personal injury.

Storage and handling of discs

Handling discs

- Use regularly shaped discs. If you use an irregularly shaped disc (a disc with an unusual shape) this player could be damaged.
- Do not touch the surface without label, which is the recording carrier. When moving the disc, hold the disc by the edges or by the edges and the central opening.
- Do not stick papers or an adhesive tape to the disc.
- If you do not use the player for a longer time, remove the disc from it and store it in a package.
- Make sure that you do not leave fingerprints or scratches on the disc.

Notes:
– Do not write on the printed side with a ballpoint pen or pencil. To mark the disc, use a special felt tip pen specially made for this purpose.
– Do not use scratch-resistant protection or packaging.
– Do not use disks labels printed on printers available on the market.
– Do not insert warped or broken discs.

Discs cleaning

- Fingerprints and dust affect the quality of the picture during playback of the disc. Wipe the disc from the center to the edge using clean cloth, which does not release threads, before use.
- Do not use any solvents, like a thinner, benzene, common cleaning agents or antistatic spray.

Copyright © 2017, Fast ČR, a. s.

Disc storage

Be careful not to damage the disc, because the data on the disc are sensitive to the surrounding environment.

- Do not store the discs in direct sunlight or close to heat sources. Do not leave the discs in closed motor vehicles parked in direct sunlight. There is a risk of deformation of the discs.
- Keep in a cool and ventilated place.
- Store them in an upright position.
- Store them in clean protective packaging.
- If you suddenly move the player from a cold place to a hot one, condensation may occur on components and lenses, causing abnormal playback. If that happens, do not plug the power cord in the outlet and wait 2 hours. Then insert the disc and try playing it again.

Supported disc formats

RW COMPATIBLE

This information informs the user that the player lets you play DVD-RW recordings in VR format (Video Recording).

Notes:

1. Depending on the recording medium, recording method (PC program used for the making of the disc) and its finalization it is possible that some CD-R or DVD +/- RW / R will not play on this player.
2. Do not attach any stickers or labels to either side of the disc (label side or recording side).
3. Do not use the player to play non-circular discs – when playing irregularly shaped discs you risk damage to the disc or to the player.
4. Some DVD and Video CD playback operations can be intentionally programmed by software manufacturers. This device plays DVD and Video CD disc according to the content of the discs created by the software manufacturer, so some playback features may not be available or some extra features may be available.

Manufactured under the license of Dolby Laboratories Inc. "Dolby", "Pro Logic" and the double D icon are registered trademarks of Dolby Laboratories Inc.

Regional code

This player is designed for playback of DVD video with region code 2 or ALL (discs so labelled can be played by any DVD players). You can find the regional code on the label or packaging, the regional code is indicated on its back or bottom side. After inserting a DVD with a region other than the region code listed above into the player, the Check Region Code message will be displayed on the screen and the DVD playback will be rejected by the player.

Annex to the LCD screen user's manual

SENCOR® Appendix to LCD TV Operating manual

Measures for static image; red/blue/green/black spots on the screen

Static picture can permanently damage the screen part of the TV set

- Do not leave a static image on the LCD panel for more than 2 hours. This may result in a damaged panel. This damage is known as "screen burn-in".
- Similar damage to the LCD panel can be caused by static placement of the television station logo.
- Watching television in 4:3 and 16:9 or similar aspect ratios (formats which do not cover the entire display panel) for a longer period of time can leave traces on the right or left edge, or even in the middle of the screen, caused by differences in light emission. Similar damage can also occur for DVD playback or playing video games.
- Displaying a static image from video games or a computer for a longer period of time can result in "image persistence". To prevent this effect, reduce the brightness and contrast levels when displaying static images.

The warranty does not apply to screen damage caused by the reasons stated above!

Red, blue, green, and black dots may appear on the screen

- This is typical for liquid crystal displays and does not indicate any problems. LCD screens are made using precision technology to provide even the finest image details. Several defective pixels can appear on the screen from time to time, indicated as red, blue, green or black dots (up to 0.001% of the total pixel count of the screen). This does not affect the characteristics and the effectiveness of your TV set.

Notes on the USB connector:

- USB memory devices require being connected directly into the device. To prevent a failing or interrupting data transfer, do not use USB extension cable. Electrostatic discharge can cause the device to not function. In this case, the user must restart the device.
- Before using a USB memory device, test that it communicates with the device and its read and write speed.
- For maximum reading speed, we recommend to keep the disc space defragmented. Use file system FAT32, single partition, no protection. If the reading/writing of the memory device is not smooth, it can lead to undesirable effects, such as interruption of the image (blocky image) or failure of whole frames, audio malfunctions, and in extreme cases, stopping of the operation. Unexpected behaviour of the memory device or the presence of viruses or other malware, may cause stopping of functioning of the device and need to be restarted.

Copyright © 2017, Fast ČR, a. s.

- The USB connector is a standard type and cannot power a USB device with a high power consumption (e.g. hard drives). Use a device with its own power and power them with their own power supply.
- The device was designed with respect to maximum compatibility with memory devices. Considering the variety of devices on the market, we cannot guarantee compatibility with every USB device available. Should you run into any issues, try formatting the memory device directly in the device. Should problems persist, use another memory device.

Due to wide range of the USB devices on the market, it is not possible to ensure compatibility of the device with all types of USB devices.

Serial number

The device's serial number is a unique number that unambiguously identifies your device. Mark down the serial number of your device below along with additional information important for the unambiguous identification of your device.

Serial number:_____

Date of purchase: _____

2. Assembly

Before attaching /removing the stand, make sure the TV is turned off and plug is disconnected from the wall outlet.
Before performing the work, put underneath the LED TV set some soft material (e.g. blanket). This will prevent damage to it. Ensure a proper attachment of the supports so that the TV set is stable.
Place the assembled TV set on a firm and flat surface.

Note:
Remove the battery during storage or if you do not use the device for a long time. To control your device with a remote controller, point it at the device and then press the desired function. The maximum range of the remote control is about 5 meters with a deviation of up to +/- 30 degrees from the perpendicular direction to the receiving remote sensor on the front of the device. The falling battery capacity decreases gradually the range of the remote controller. When you use the remote controller, there can not be any fixed obstacles between the remote controller and the device. During a standard use, the battery life in the remote controller is about 1 year. If there is a significant reduction in the effective range of the remote controller, replace both batteries in the controller. If you are not going to use the controller for a long time, take out both batteries – thus preventing a possible damage from battery leakage.
Prevent entry of strong light (e.g. sunlight or strong light from fluorescent or energy-saving sources) that may limit the efficiency and reliability of infrared remote controller.
