The “Lamart brand by Piere Lamart” represents a wide range of modern, affordable cookware and utensils for playful cooking, which brings into your kitchen lightness, quality and refinement thanks to its quality manufacturing and modern design inspired by the late French chef Piere Lamart’s philosophy of playful cooking.

Piere Lamart

France is renowned for its cuisine and is home to countless cafés and bars from which the culinary elite and a remarkable number of Michelin stars have arisen.

In the centre of one of the famous regions of Bretagne, on the fertile coast of the Atlantic Ocean, there is a little family restaurant where the chef Piere Lamart worked during his lifetime. This warm, jolly Frenchman was the heart and soul of his little family brasserie. Everybody in the neighbourhood knew him and the striped apron he used to wear over his chef's jacket every day.

His whole secret was his hospitality, the way he treated his customers and the joy he took in everything he did. The line of cookware "Lamart by Piere Lamart" is inspired by the experience and playful approach to cooking of this unique chef.

Cauliflower soup with parmesan

Cauliflower 1/2 pc
 Cream 30% 150 ml
 Fine flour 50 g
 Butter 50 g
 Parsley 30 g
 Oil 50 ml
 Parmesan 20 g
 Pinch of mace

Preparation

Clean and wash the cauliflower, break it into florets and cook in boiling salted water until semi-soft. Prepare a light roux from the oil and flour and pour in some of the water in which the cauliflower was cooked. Return half of the cauliflower to the soup and cook until soft, then blend the soup until smooth and creamy. Cut the remaining cauliflower florets into small pieces and fry in half the butter until golden. Season the soup with salt and pepper, add a pinch of mace and finally soften with cream and simmer for about 5 minutes. Stir the remaining butter into the finished soup.

Cast iron pots

Enameled cast iron cookware – high quality, durable, hard and unchanging material, colourable. Inner and outer enamel layer resists scratches and cracks. High temperature resistance up to 280°C. Quality cast iron with a non-stick enamel layer combines low adhesion with high mechanical and chemical durability of the cookware. The inner layer with its ribbed or shaped bottom enables low-fat cooking and prevents food from sticking. Large handles facilitate even weight distribution and a safe grip. Despite its weight, enameled cast iron achieves the best possible thermal conductivity and accumulation properties. Easy maintenance and cleaning.

Cooking

Pressure cookers

Roast Sirloin Wellington

600 g beef sirloin
2 egg
2 egg yolks
30 g butter
400 g puff pastry
450 g mushrooms
50 g breadcrumbs

1 clove garlic
5 tbsp cooking cream
1 tbsp virgin olive oil
salt
pepper

Preparation

Pepper the meat. Heat the oil in a frying pan, put the sirloin on it and fry it on all sides until pink. Baste it occasionally with the juices from the roasting. Then transfer the meat to a baking dish and bake in a preheated oven at 200°C for about 15 minutes. Remove from the oven and set aside to cool and refrigerate. Clean the mushroom legs of any remaining dirt and peel off the caps with a sharp knife. Cut the mushrooms into thin slices. Heat the butter in a pan with the garlic clove, add the mushrooms and then stir in the breadcrumbs, cream and egg yolks. Cook for 5 minutes, let cool and mix everything. Heat a dry frying pan and dry fry the mixture.

The aim is to evaporate the excess water. Later, it would flow unnecessarily through the puff pastry during baking. It takes about 5 to 7 minutes. Set aside and allow to cool. Roll out the puff pastry into a larger sheet and place in the fridge to firm up again. Stretch fresh foil over a cutting board and place the cold puff pastry on top. It should be wider than the meat. Layer the mushroom mixture on top of the pastry. Take the meat out of the fridge and place on the bottom of the pastry. Carefully wrap, cutting off the rest of the dough and using the foil to pull it as tightly as possible. Put back in the fridge for 20 minutes to firm up. Preheat the oven to 200 degrees. Carefully unwrap the sirloin from the foil and smear with the egg yolk. Bake on a baking tray / in a roasting pan for about 35 minutes. We can watch the internal temperature of the meat, which should be about 56–57 degrees. But 60 degrees maximum. Just use a needle thermometer carefully to be 100% sure. Remove Wellington from the oven and let rest for at least 5 minutes. The juices in the meat will even out and it will stay juicy.

Beverage preparation

Glasses

Orangēade with ginger

- 2 medium-size oranges
- 200 g ginger
- 2 limes
- 300 g sugar

Preparation

Squeeze the orange juice and lime juice, add peeled and grated ginger and sugar. Add a little water and bring it to a low boil. Have the finished syrup cooled down and dilute it with water to taste. For a fresh taste, add a few mint leaves and, of course, ice.

Squeeze citrus fruits by hand and not with a juicer for better syrup. If you don't peel enough white rind from the citrus fruit, the juice comes out of the juicer slightly bitter. Add sugar to syrup — this weight is only approximate, depending on your taste.

Baked bread roll crouton filling with sautéed country English bacon

10 bread rolls
4 eggs
300 g English bacon
150 g young nettle sprouts
2 tbsp hazelnuts
50 g butter
4 dl milk
pinch nutmeg
salt and pepper to taste

Preparation

Cut the bread rolls into 1x1-cm cubes. Place them into a casserole dish and dry them in an oven preheated to 100 °C. Remove them, tip them out into a larger bowl, add the egg yolks, salt, pepper, part of the English bacon cut into small cubes, nutmeg and coarsely chopped nettles. Stir carefully. Gradually pour in the milk and finally the egg whites whipped into a thick foam and join it all together. Work carefully so that the foam does not collapse and the croutons do not break up.

Into the casserole dish, lay the English bacon and carefully transfer the filling into it. Bake the filling in a preheated oven at 180 °C for approximately 30 to 40 minutes.

Beef burger baked with goat cheese and pear sauce

800 g beef neck coarsely ground
 4 egg yolks
 250 g goat's cheese
 350 g bottled pears
 sprig of fresh coriander
 1 tbsp caster sugar
 4 hamburger buns
 120 g pickles
 2 tomatoes
 4 tbsp mayonnaise
 4 leaves iceberg lettuce
 1 small onion
 60 g butter
 Salt, white pepper to taste

Preparation

Put the cooled beef in a bowl, add the salt, egg yolks and gently combine. From the meat prepared in this way, make 4 buns, shape them into burgers, put them on a plate and put them in the fridge to cool. Put the butter in a saucepan, heat it, add the finely chopped bottled pears, sugar and caramelise over a low heat. Place in a blender, add the fresh coriander without the stem and blend. Season with salt and white pepper. Grill the meat in a hot pan or grill for 4 and 4 minutes on each side. The length of grilling depends on the degree of doneness. Slice the hamburger bun lengthwise and dry fry in the hot pan. Brush the bottom with a good quality mayonnaise and place the grilled meat and goat's cheese on top.  50 g butter (cold)
 100 g onion
 50 g dill
 4 eggs
 ground caraway (pinch)
 vinegar – to taste
 sugar, 1 teaspoon

Preparation

Heat up oil in a pot, add diced onion and have it turn translucent. Add flour and make a light roux, into which pour cool broth. Season with salt, pepper, caraway seed and add potatoes diced into small cubes. Cook together for approx. 1/2 hour. When the potatoes are half soft, add sautéed mushrooms (or cooked dried) mushrooms, on butter sautéed chopped fresh dill, sugar, vinegar and then cook together for another 15 minutes. Finally, mellow the taste with cream and butter. Cook the poached eggs in slightly vinegary boiling water until half soft. Serve on a nice, preheated plate.

Blueberry coffee cake

Blueberries	400 g
Milk	250 ml
Crystal sugar	100 g
Yeast	20 g
Semi-coarse flour	350 g
Pastry flour	200 g
Eggs	3
Butter	50 g
Lard	80 g
Salt
Filling:
Eggs	2
Soft quark	500 g
Powdered sugar	150 g
Vanilla pudding	100 g
Butter	70 g
Zest from one lemon

Preparation

Add two teaspoons of sugar to the heated semi-lukewarm milk, crush the yeast and add two tablespoons of flour. Mix it all together. Cover the yeast and leave to rise in the heat. Mix both flours together, add a pinch of salt, the remaining milk, 2 egg yolks, melted butter and lard, and risen yeast. Thoroughly knead the dough and leave it to rise. Spread baking paper on a baking sheet and lightly grease it. Place the dough on the baking sheet and gradually pull it with your fingers to the edge of the sheet. Make the edges higher, so that the filling doesn't trickle out. For the filling, mix the quark with the egg yolks, add the sugar, vanilla pudding, melted butter and lemon zest. Thoroughly whip it all with a whisk. Spread the filling on the dough and spread the blueberries. Brush the edges with the beaten egg white and bake in a preheated oven at 180°C for about 20 minutes.
